Subject: Interregional Training Course on the Use of the Sterile Insect and Related Techniques for the Area-wide Integrated Pest Management of Native and Exotic Insect Pests, from 6 to 19 November 2017 and from 27 November to 2 December 2017, in Metapa de Dominguez, Chiapas. And from 20 to 24 November 2017, in Guatemala.

Dear National Liaison Officers,

The International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) and the Food and Agriculture Organisation of the United Nations (FAO) in co-operation with the Mexican Ministry of Agriculture and the Moscamed Programme of the Guatemala, Mexico and USA Governments will be conducting the above mentioned training course within the framework of the interregional technical cooperation project INT/5/155, "Sharing Knowledge on the Sterile Insect and Related Techniques for the Integrated Area-Wide Management of Insect Pests and Human Disease Vectors", from 6 to 19 November 2017 and from 27 November to 2 December 2017, in Metapa de Dominguez, Chiapas. And from 20 to 24 November 2017, in Guatemala

The purpose of the training course is to provide a thorough overview and training on the integrated application of nuclear and related techniques within the context of area-wide insect pest management programmes to managers of insect control programmes, animal/human health and plant protection officials and applied research entomologists.

You are kindly requested to submit nominations for qualified participants from your country for this training course. Nominations for the training course should be submitted to the IAEA online through the Technical Cooperation Department's InTouch system (<http://intouch.iaea.org>). Should this not be possible, nominations may be submitted on the standard IAEA Nomination Form for Training course (available on the IAEA website: <http://www.iaea.org/>).

Please ensure that all nominations are received at the Agency by 3 August 2017 at the latest, nominations received after the closing date will not be considered.

Kindly note that that holding of the abovementioned training course will be subject to the official confirmation of the host Government

Thank you for your kind cooperation.
